FIDIC 2011 YOUNG PROFESSIONALS MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAMME

FIDIC invites Young Professionals to join a seven-month online
.management training programme

<http://www.fidic.org/ypmtp>

Developing consulting engineering firms and their young professionals implies major challenges which are addressed by the FIDIC Young .(Professionals Management Training Programme (YPMTP

Firms need to diversify by developing into broad based,
.multidisciplinary consultancies

The work environment must be attractive for professionals with a .variety of educational and professional backgrounds

Firms must improve the way they offer services in an open and highly competitive market, and be profitable in order to be able to develop
.new activities and to retain the very best staff

Some firms will be developing activities on a global basis and will .have to prepare their staff for a multitude of cultural challenges

In addition, participants build up an international network through their contacts with other young professionals during the programme.

They are also exposed to how the consulting engineering industry operates at an international level through their participation in the FIDIC Annual Conference and through contact with the industry
.leaders

The aim is to develop leadership, communication skills, intercultural understanding, new approaches to understanding management challenges, and familiarity with the consulting engineering industry's
.international activities and resources

PROGRAMME

The programme provides as a basis a thorough understanding to all those aspects of a professional services firm that young professionals and potential managers will need in order to for them
.to become future managers in the business environment of tomorrow

For the first four months they work systematically through FIDIC Business Practice Training Manual modules, and undertake project-
.based case studies linked to the modules

This first part is web-based and driven by personnel involvement.
Participants work in teams of 10-15 divided according to time zones, with online sessions and interactive learning hosted on the eFIDIC consulting training platform and assisted and monitored by senior engineers. Participants can test drive eFIDIC at
.http://www.efidic.org

The second part takes place immediately before the FIDIC 2011 Tunis Conference during working sessions over five days to finalise reports
.and conclusions to be presented at the Future Leaders Workshop

TRAINING PLATFORM

The programme uses the eFIDIC training platform at <http://www.efidic.org> (interested participants can test the YPMTTP site for a limited period) with BT for webconferencing (participants dial in to local numbers for the audio component), see

<http://www.btconferencing.co.uk/products-and-services/web-conferencing/>. Skype calls can also be placed at the YPMTTP's expense

PROGRAMME FEE

Euro 2400.- per participant including registration for the FIDIC 2011
.Tunis Conference

PROGRAMME TUTORS

The programme is managed by Steen Frederiksen, FIDIC Coordinator, assisted by a Mentor Board comprising senior and very experienced international consultants: Bayo Adeola, Nigeria; Dick Kell, .Australia; Ben Novak, Canada
