FIDIC International Infrastructure Conference

Early Bird Discounts

Dear Colleagues,

Registration is Now Open for the FIDIC International Infrastructure Conference which takes place in Berlin, Germany, from September 9-11, 2018.

The Business Programme of this must-attend annual event will kick off with an Opening Address from McKinsey & Co Keynote Speaker Dr Gernot Strube who will draw on proprietary analysis and global trend studies to outline the impacts of the rapid technological changes on both advanced and developing economies in terms of investment, infrastructure and economic performance.

We will go deeper on the implications of digital transformations across the consulting engineering industry with select panels of CEOs and C-suite executives from world's leading consulting engineering and construction companies such as AECOM, Sweco, Mott MacDonald and Strabag to name just a few.

Register today to take advantage of the Early Bird registration fees available online at www.fidic2018.org and connect with those at the forefront of shaping the future of infrastructure development.

Remember, as FIDIC Member you can benefit of the Member preferential registration rates.

For ease of reference, please find:

- the preliminary Programme, available online on the FIDIC 2018 Conference website
- the Conference Banners, in JPEG format, that we kindly ask you to display on your website (and social-media channels) with a hyper-link to our Conference Registration system <https://fidic.b-com.hosting/CommunityPortal/Registration/FIDIC2018/REGISTRATION.aspx>
- the FIDIC sponsorship brochure which includes a set of interesting opportunities to network and connect as well as promote and showcase benefits for your organisation, company, brand and services.

Please feel free to share these with anyone interested to engage, gain knowledge and connect at our event.

We look forward to welcoming you in Berlin and make the 2018 FIDIC International Infrastructure Conference a valuable and inspiring event for the global community of consulting engineering professionals.

With best regards,

Alain Bentéjac
FIDIC President
